

Senso Wash Starck

From the preheated seat to the cleansing wash, modern toilets offer a completely new level of hygiene and comfort for the smallest (and often the most-frequented) room in the house. The culture of the "shower WC" has been standard in the Asian world for many years and more many nationalities are now discovering its benefits during their travels, and want to continue to enjoy this natural, cleansing comfort when they return home. Bathroom manufacturer Duravit and design industry stalwart Philippe Starck have now taken this idea and run with it in a collaboration that has produced the SensoWash Starck.
